STARVING WOMEN ASK SURRENDER OF CITY

Children of Mazatlan Follow Governor and Beg for Food—Rebels Agree to Pay Large Indemnity.

By Charles H. Raymond.
(United Press correspondent with the American fleet.)

U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, Mex., June 7.—By wireless to San Diego, June 8.—A mob of starving women today followed Governor Rodriguez through the streets of Mazatlan and implored him to surrender the city to the rebels and end the famine which is becoming more serious each day.

The crowd, which included many emaciated children, followed the governor to his residence and begged for food. He finally arranged to distribute small supplies of corn each day to keep the people alive.

The demonstrations are becoming more serious and there is little food of any kind left.

Rodriguez still refuses to surrender the port. In the meantime starvation is aggravated by continual sharp-shooting from the rebel lines around the city, and noncombatants are being killed every day.

The situation is becoming almost unbearable, and riots are imminent. Pitiful scenes are enacted at the breadline where the poor and rich alike receive their scant supplies of grain.

Rodriguez has arrested the collector of the port and four officials on a charge of conspiring with the rebels and turning over to them the power boat Junio Primero. A two days' engagement near San Juan Del Cabo is reported here. The federal garrison was attacked, but succeeded in holding its position.

Will Pay $25,000.

El Paso, Texas, June 8.—Rebel representatives here agreed today to pay $25,000 gold indemnity to the heirs of Gustave Baugh, German-American who disappeared some time ago at Juarez, as was generally believed to have been executed, though this was never formally admitted. It was understood the offer was satisfactory to the Washington state department and that payment of the money would close the incident.

Notification was also received from General Villa that the Mexican property left by the late William Benton to his widow would be protected.

BITTER FIGHT RAGES IN SWEDISH RIKSDAG

"Russian Peril" Preached in Sweden—Army Enlistment Terms Are to be Made Longer—Navy to be Increased.

Stockholm, June 8.—The fight in the Riksdag over the administration's national defense bill is beginning to grow very bitter.

The administration's representatives among the lawmakers are preaching the "Russian peril" with much vehemence and accusing their opponents of lack of patriotism. The latter accuse the bill's supporters of reactionary, militarist tendencies and declare the "peril" purely imaginary.

The administration calls attention to the fact that the plan for raising the additional $20,000,000 needed provides for a tax almost exclusively upon the rich. The opposition argues that this is a subterfuge, and that, indirectly, the money will come from the masses. The bill backed by the liberals lengthens the period of compulsory military service to 354 days and for classes to 450 days. It is the naval program, however, which excites the fiercest opposition. It calls for eight battleships and 16 destroyers. This is a liberal measure. The conservatives want a still larger naval establishment. The more extreme radicals, including socialists, declare so large a fleet not only unnecessary, but absolutely ridiculous for a country of Sweden's population and comparatively modest financial resources.

CAT'S WEIRD WAILING REVEALS BODY OF MAN

Los Angeles, Cal., June 8.—The weird wailing of a cat that had puzzled an entire neighborhood for a week is explained today by the discovery in his shack of the body of Frank Hamble, former University of California athlete and Southern Pacific railroad traveling agent, with a gaunt, half-starved cat stretched beside him.

Hamble, according to a police surgeon, was addicted to alcohol, and had died from heart failure. The cat was locked in the shack with him, without food or water. Hamble had been dead a week.

INDIAN PRINCESS, THE BE-GUM OF BHOPAL, IS COMING

Seattle, Wash., June 8.—Her highness, the Begum of Bhopal, of Bhopal state, India, may stroll the University of Washington campus next year along with American co-eds and rah rabs. She has written the registrar for information, and says she may take a run over here next fall for added experience in a good school of the United States.

PLATT WILL RECOVER FROM SERIOUS BULLET WOUND

Los Angeles, Cal., June 8.—President George E. Platt, of the Los Angeles Creamery company, will recover from the wound he received when he was shot Saturday by C. T. Deyos who then committed suicide. While his condition is still serious, it was announced at the California hospital he will not succumb unless complications in his case arise.

"DARLING WOMAN" READ RAPP'S LETTERS

Defendant's Face Flushes Crimson and He Flees Into Court Corridor—Ten Missives Read Into Record.

Chicago, June 8.—More of the letters William Rapp, Jr., was alleged to have written to Mrs. Katherine Dean were read to the jury today at the continued hearing of Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink's suit for divorce from Rapp.

In all, 10 more of them went into the records. Rapp's lawyer tried to have them excluded but Judge Sullivan refused. "Dearest Annie," was the commonest introduction, but occasionally the variation "Darling Annie" was used, and one opening was "Darling Wonder Woman."

Rapp's face turned a rich crimson as the reading proceeded, and finally, as the crowd giggled, he surrendered altogether and fled into the corridor.

N. Sato, a Japanese photographer, took a flashlight picture of the courtroom just as the day's session was beginning, and was arrested.

Frances Ashton, a woman detective, testified that Mrs. Dean left an old trunk in her room. She said she opened it and found Rapp's letters wrapped in several shirtwaists. The reading of the letters was then resumed. One letter said:

"Be brave, be faithful and be patient, and everything will come out all right."

Under cross-examination Miss Ashton admitted that never to her knowledge had Rapp and Mrs. Dean occupied the same room together at night.

"Divorce Is Terrible." Mme. Schumann-Heink was not one of those who thought her husband's embarrassment funny. She frankly expressed her sympathy for him and plainly intimated that, had she understood all the "Annie" letters contained she would not have permitted her lawyers to read them in open court.

"He must have loved her very much," she said of Mrs. Dean. "I did understand all the letters my husband wrote to her, and my lawyers would not explain them to me. Divorce is a terrible thing for everybody."

Singer Grave and Bad. The tug matters had taken evidently convinced the songstress, who had previously seemed to take the case rather lightly, that tragedy was involved, too, and she looked grave and sad, in odd contrast to the snickering listeners to the proceedings.

Her expression of sympathy did not prevent Rapp's counsel from attacking her character at the first opportunity. As soon as her attorney had rested her case, Bryant Humphrey, Mme. Schumann-Heink's former chauffeur, was called to the stand for Rapp. He testified that he was employed by the singer for four weeks in 1913, and that "Mr. Baldwin" was frequently with her. A guess was taken before he had time to get far with his story.

WORK OF COUNTY AGENTS BRINGS GOOD RESULTS

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Ore., June 8.—The good results of the work of county demonstration agents are beginning to appear," said Professor H. T. French, state leader of farm demonstration at the Oregon Agricultural college.

"While it is impossible to measure the value of their most valuable accomplishments in dollars and cents, reports of 150 agents in the states of the northern and western parts of the United States show the value to farmers to be more than one and one-half millions of dollars. The work they did in organization, co-operation, maintaining soil fertility, improving livestock, home education, work, is an investment for time benefits the value of which time only will show."

"During the past of the year 1913 in which they carried on their work these agents visited 40,985 farmers on their own farms, co-operated in agricultural betterment with one-half that number, addressed 6014 meetings and organized 757 co-operative bodies. They prepared and published 376 emergency circulars, 1174 timely articles for the press, and wrote 67,933 personal letters to farmers on local problems. More than 300,000 acres of field crops were grown under their direction.

"The agents supervised the planting and culture of thousands of acres of orchards, and gave spraying directions for many kinds of trees. They organized almost 3000 farms, and made working plans and crop rotation systems for almost as many more. They were directly responsible for the building of 1804 silos and the improvement of many homes. They assisted in the purchase of 719 registered sires and tested 16,927 cows for production. They were instrumental in the vaccination of 105,806 hogs for cholera, in many cases making the vaccination themselves.

The system is new in Oregon but already work of the greatest value to farmers has been accomplished by the agents now in the field."

PRIARS CLUB PROPRIETORS PLEAD "NOT GUILTY"

Oregon City, Ore., June 8.—The three men indicted by the Clackamas county grand jury for being in control of the celebrated Priars club at Milwaukie—J. Wilbur, William Wilbur and B. Barish—were brought before Circuit Judge Campbell today for arraignment. They entered a plea of not guilty and reserved the right to plead at the trial that the court had no jurisdiction over the Priars club at the time the alleged crimes were committed, for which they were indicted as Governor West proclaimed martial law over the club on May 5 and had never withdrawn it. While Judge Campbell granted their right to plead this at the trial, he stated, martial law was not in effect at the time. The trial was set for Friday and the three men were released upon $300 cash bail for each one. The men were indicted on six counts for selling liquor to girls. They were arrested Saturday by Sheriff Mass.

WILLIAM OF WIED MAY HAVE TO ABDICATE

Albanians Declare They Will Have No Foreign Prince to Rule Over Them—Tone Is Defiant.

Vienna, June 8.—Influential Albanians with whom representatives of the powers have been in communication relative to the uprising against Prince William of Wied, the king chosen for them at the end of the Balkan war, were quoted today to the effect that Albania absolutely will not accept a foreigner as ruler.

The suggestion that the position being given to the Duke of the Abruzzi or to one of the Bonapartes was treated with ridicule. William, the powers were reminded, will unquestionably have to abdicate, and strong assurance was given that neither the Duke of the Abruzzi nor any of the Bonapartes would have any better success. The Albanians' tone was distinctly defiant. It was admitted here that what they said concerning William certainly was true. He is still in Durazzo, but dares not stir out of range of protection of the guns of the Italian cruiser in the harbor.

STATE TITLE IS CLAIMED.

Salem High School Is Ready to Defend Championship.

Salem high school claims the baseball championship of the state and stands ready to defend it against any high school that has a reasonable claim upon it.

Six games were played by Salem, one-half of which were shutouts and the other half of which were won by decisive scores. Early in the season the penitentiary team was shut out, 6-0. Later Albany high school suffered a 10-0 defeat. Corvallis high school was defeated, 10-1 the next day. At this time Newberg high school claimed the state championship upon the basis that it had defeated all other schools of the valley and some of the Portland schools. On May 14 Salem won a 7-2 victory over Newberg on the Newberg grounds.

Columbia university, by defeating all the Portland schools, decisively won the interscholastic championship of Portland. Salem high in two games defeated Columbia, first in Portland, 3-0, and later in Salem, 2-1.

In the six games Captain Roy Keene struck out 81 batters, walked 6 and allowed only 14 hits, a record that will stand above any high school pitcher's record in the state against as strong an array of batters. The other individual records are correspondingly strong. The batting average of the team is .240 and its fielding average is .901.

The Salem high school team has done all its practicing on the Willamette university grounds and Dr. G. J. Sweetland, Jr., the athletic director of Willamette, who has had ample opportunity to fully size up the high school team, states that in his opinion the team could win a majority of games if a series was played with any of the northwest colleges.

MINE RESCUE TEAMS COMPOSED ON U. OF W. CAMPUS

Seattle, Wash., June 8.—The first of what is hoped will become annual contests between mine rescue teams from coal mines of the state, will be held on the University of Washington campus July 22 and 23, under the supervision of J. J. Correy, in charge of the university's mine rescue station.

Fifteen teams will contest this year. By next year it is believed interest will be so stimulated that perhaps fifty teams will be in the field.

This year's teams, besides coal mine squads, include one from the Northern Pacific railway at CleElum.

A tunnel and smoke house will be constructed on the campus and teams will be required to "rescue" bodies from the smoke-filled rooms and apply first aid methods.
